Turkish Economy and Banking System in 2009

I. Economy and Banking System in Turkey in 2009

1. General Outlook

1.1. Economic Performance In 2009

The global economy underwent a deep, long-lasting and destructive crisis.

The global economy remained under severe stress in 2009 as the crisis broadened in both advanced and emerging market countries. This protracted period of the deep and destructive impacts on all economies of the countries was considered as a global crisis by many economists. Although the crisis had a deep impression on the financial sector, the developments in fact negatively affected almost all sectors. According to the International Monetary Fund (IMF), the world output and trade volume had declined at the highest rate ever seen since the last 40 years, with high rate of decline in wealth, rapidly increasing unemployment, rising ratios of budget deficits and outstanding public debt to national income, falling commodity prices, decline in capital inflow to the emerging markets, loss of confidence and increase of instability in the markets. As a result, the financial sector couldn't perform its intermediary functions soundly and the markets became inefficient in many countries.

National authorities, international institutions and organizations started a joint effort to restore confidence and get financial markets functioning properly again, and minimize the impact on the global economy. For a better coordination, the Group of Twenty (G-20), including also Turkey, proposed a set of measures to be taken in the international platform with effect from the last quarter of 2008. The national authorities intervened the economies through monetary and fiscal policies; the central banks rapidly lowered the interest rates and provided liquidity support to markets and financial institutions while the governments provided capital support to financial institutions.

On the other hand, the financial asset and instrument prices increased rapidly, particularly starting from the second half of 2009 as a result of decline in interest rates and expansion of liquidity sources across the world. While effects of the measures adopted on the real economy remained rather limited, the financial markets recovered more rapidly.

Turkey's economy shrank, both inflation and interest rates decreased.

The international developments also affected Turkish economy negatively. Income dropped, private sector demand contracted, foreign trade volume diminished, budget deficit grew, unemployment rate increased, and capital inflow declined in parallel to the world economy. On the other hand, inflation and interest rates fell to historically low levels.

Gross domestic product (gdp) contracted by 4.7 percent in 2009 in constant prices. Fixed capital investments decreased by 19.2 percent, while total consumption declined by 1 percent. It is estimated that the ratio of total savings gap to gdp is 2.3 percent, and the ratio of public sector savings gap to gdp is around 5.3 percent, while that of private sector savings surplus to gdp is about 3.1 percent.

The central government budget deficit grew under the effects of shrinking economic activity and tax reductions. Due to the enlarging budget deficit, the ratio of public sector deficit to gdp rose from 1.6 percent to 6.4 percent.

The ratio of public sector outstanding debt to gdp was 47 percent, and the ratio of outstanding domestic debt to gdp increased by 6 percentage points to 35 percent, while the ratio of outstanding external debt to gdp increased by 2 percentage points to 12 percent.

The inflation fell to 6.5 percent, which was the lowest level recorded ever since 1968. Easing of inflationist pressures enabled the Central Bank to lower the short-term interest rates, and the policy interest rate was reduced by 8.5 percentage points in 2009. The short-term interest rates were also marked down to single-digits for the first time since they were regulated by the market. The Central Bank, having increased liquidity possibilities, injected liquidity into the market through open market operations. Furthermore, The Bank purchased net USD 3.3 billion foreign exchange through foreign exchange buying auctions.

Though the number of unemployed people rose to a limited extent, the rate of unemployment declined due to the increase in employment and labor force.

Turkey's credit rating was upgraded four times in 2009 by various rating agencies. As of December 2009, Turkey's sovereign credit rating was announced as BB- by S&P, as Ba3 by Moodys and as BB+ by FITCH.

The total ratio of deposits to loans fell down from 84 percent in September 2008 to 81 percent at the end of 2008 and to 76 percent at the end of 2009. The annual growth rate in the loan stock, after slowing down to zero percent as of October 2009, started to rise in the last two months of the year and reached 5 percent as of December 2009. The ratio of loan stock to gdp increased by 2 percentage points to 39 percent. Out of total loans 73 percent was in TL terms.

The ratio of foreign trade volume to gdp decreased by 6 percentage points to 39 percent. Due to the decrease in domestic demand, the current account deficit contracted rapidly, and the ratio of current account deficit to gdp was equivalent to 2.3 percent.

On annual basis, capital inflow remained below the current account deficit. Capital inflow declined from USD 34 billion in the previous year to USD 6 billion in 2009, and particularly external borrowing of the industrial sector decreased.

Outstanding foreign debt fell to USD 271 billion, but the ratio of outstanding foreign debt to gdp rose by 7 percentage points to 44 percent.

Measures Adopted in Turkey

With the intention of minimizing the negative effects of international developments on Turkey, the measures adopted by the Government and the relevant authorities starting from the last quarter of 2008 were continued in 2009. Thanks to these measures adopted, the deterioration in expectations stopped, and behaviors started to turn into positive though slowly, starting from the first quarter of 2009.

The measures adopted by the Government:

- In February 2009, the duration of short-time working allowance was increased from 3 months to 6 months. In June 2009, the duration of short-time working allowance was increased by further 6 months. The validity time of government subsidies was extended by one year with respect to 49 provinces. It was decided to interdict confiscation of pensions.

- By the new package of measures announced in March 2009, tax rates enforceable in white goods, automobile and housing sectors were reduced, and additional subsidies and allowances were offered to SMEs, and the Resource Utilization Support Fund rates were lowered, and the capital of Turk Eximbank was increased. In addition, the discounted tariff rates applied on electricity consumed in industries were generalized and extended.
- By a second package of measures introduced again in March 2009, the rate of VAT applied on furniture, heavy-duty machines and equipments, information technologies and office furniture was reduced. In April 2009, the scope of the tax reduction was expanded to cover sectors such as automotive supplies industry and telephone. Later, the validity time of the tax reductions was extended up to October 2009.
- In March 2009, maturity of agricultural loans offered by TC Ziraat Bankası A.Ş. was extended.
- “Revising and Amending the Law on Regulation of Public Finance and Debt Management” intending to provide National Treasury support to the Credit Guarantee Fund (CGF) was enacted in June 2009. According to the Law, public cash resources will be transferred to CGF or a special rank of government domestic debt instruments will be issued for CGF in an amount up to TL 1 billion for provision of loan guarantees to firms. Accordingly, the Minister of Finance was authorized to open a section in the Treasury Undersecretariat’s budget for the said special rank of government domestic debt instruments to be issued and to transfer an allowance up to TL 1 billion.
- The capital of the CGF was increased from TL 60 million to TL 240 million by participation of twenty banks.
- In June 2009, with the Law Revising and Amending the Law on Regulation of Public Finance and Debt Management, it was decided to transfer cash resources up to TL 2.6 billion to the Agricultural Products Office and to instruct the Treasury Undersecretariat to issue a special rank of government domestic debt instruments.
- In June 2009, the Government announced its new government subsidies system to be applicable until the end of 2010, aiming to support major investments in twelve sectors and to divide Turkey into four separate regions for granting sector and region based government subsidies. The means of government subsidies were declared as reductions in corporate/income tax rates, reimbursement of employer’s contribution to social security premiums by the Treasury Undersecretariat, interest subsidies, allocation of lands or sites for investments, VAT exemption, and customs tax and duty exemption. The sectors eligible for major investment supports were chemicals and chemical products manufacturing, refined petroleum products manufacturing, transit pipeline transportation services, motor land vehicles manufacturing, railway and tramway locomotive or wagon manufacturing, port construction and port services, electronics manufacturing industry, medical devices, precious and optical tools and devices manufacturing, pharmaceuticals manufacturing, air crafts and space vehicles manufacturing, machine manufacturing investments and mining investments.

- The regulation on restructuring of outstanding loan card debts was published in July 2009. Accordingly, as for the outstanding loan card debts for which a payment notice was issued, or an execution proceeding was initiated, or a legal proceeding was pending by the bank as of May 31, 2009, the restructuring was allowed providing that an application was filed within 60 days and that the minimum debt payment agreed upon in the restructuring contract was not less than 20 percent of the debt of period. The Banking Regulation and Supervision Agency was authorized to increase the rate up to 40 percent and to reduce the increased rate down to 20 percent.
- By an employment package publicized by the Government, it is decided that the supports to be granted to charitable organizations and projects will be financed from the unemployment insurance fund, and thus, direct employment opportunities and jobs be created for 120 thousand persons unemployed. In addition, through professional trainings, 200 thousand persons unemployed are intended to be trained, and the total number of unemployed to be reached by this program will be 500 thousand persons.
- In July 2009, the validity time of the legislative arrangement known as Law on Repatriation of Capital was first extended to September 2009 and then to the end of 2009.
- The Ministry of Industry and Trade initiated a new three-legged loan support program addressed to tradesmen and craftsmen and to all SMEs. It is stated that these supports and subsidies are formulated in a framework consistent to the budget of Small and Medium Enterprises Development Organization contained in the mid-term program and would “therefore not bring any additional burden on 2009 budget”. For this reason, it was specified that these supports would be valid only until the end of 2009, and the first of these support programs would provide a total loan facility of TL 2.5 billion to 100 thousand of commercial enterprises.

The measures adopted by the Central Bank:

- The short-term interest rates were reduced by 8.5 percentage points in total from 15 percent to 6.5 percent during 2009.
- Starting from March 2009, due to the rapid rise in the foreign exchange demand, foreign exchange selling auctions were initiated, a total of USD 900 million was sold in 18 auctions in March. In parallel to the increasing foreign exchange supply in the national economy starting in August, the Central Bank restarted foreign exchange buying auctions, and purchased a total of USD 4.2 billion in 2009. Thus, net foreign exchange purchases by the Central Bank was USD 3.3 billion in 2009.
- In February, the Central Bank extended the lending maturity from 1 month to 3 months in foreign exchange deposit market and reduced the lending interest rate from 7 percent to 5.5 percent in USD and from 9 percent to 6.5 percent in euro.
- In March and April, new legislative arrangements enabling more firms to raise rediscount loan facilities were enacted, and loan limits were also increased.

- The rate of TL required reserves was reduced from 6 percent to 5 percent as of October 2009.
- For satisfying the liquidity demands of the market, funding was raised, and repo auctions with 3-months maturity started as one of the means of funding as of June.

The measures adopted by the Banking Regulation and Supervision Agency (BRSA):

- “Revising and Amending Regulation on the Procedures and Principles for Determination of Qualifications of Loans and Other Receivables by Banks and Provisions To Be Set Aside” was published in the Official Gazette numbered 27119 on January 23, 2009. With the new regulation, the banks were allowed to restructure the loans that currently appear performing as well. Thereafter, upon expiry as of March 1, 2010, the validity term of Temporary Article 2 and Temporary Article 3 of the said regulation is extended until March 1, 2011, by Article 4 of the Regulation promulgated in the Official Gazette numbered 27513 on March 6, 2010.
- BRSA required banks to get permission for distribution of their earnings.

The measures adopted by the Capital Markets Board:

- In April 2009, the Capital Markets Board determined the principles relating to capital decreases not requiring any fund outflow. It was declared that as the international economic crisis economically made it impossible for companies to realize a cash capital increase through public offerings, this impossibility forces the companies to make capital increase so as to satisfy their cash capital requirements. It is also added that in addition to the previously issued legislative regulations, with a view to paving the way for cash capital increases of companies the shares of which are traded below the nominal value per share, the Board regulated the principles and procedures relating to the process of capital increases not requiring any fund outflow for the publicly-held joint-stock companies.

On the other hand, the Government publicized its three-years basic economic targets through a Mid-Term Program in order to reduce the market uncertainty and to affect positively the expectations and behaviors in the market.

1.2. Mid-Term Program and Estimates for the Period of 2010-2012

By the Mid-Term Program publicized in December 2009, targets relating to certain economic aggregates were identified. Accordingly, it is expected that the negative effects of the global economic fluctuation will start to diminish and accordingly gdp is expected to grow by 3.5 percent in 2010 and 4 percent in 2011 and 5 percent in 2012, respectively. Within this framework, the ratio of current account deficit to gdp is forecasted to be around 2.8 percent in 2010. Estimations for the same ratio is around 3.3 percent in 2011 and 3.9 percent 2012, respectively. It is further foreseen that PSBR (public sector borrowing requirement)/gdp ratio will start to decline as of 2010 and will be equivalent to 2.7 percent in 2012.

The ratio of primary balance to gdp is foreseen to be around 1.3 percent in 2010 and around 2.1 percent in 2012.

Main Economic Aggregates (percentage)

	2010*	2011*	2012*

* Forecast

As a result of developments in public finance, the ratio of the public sector outstanding debt (gross) to gdp is estimated to decrease after 2010 and will be around 47.8 percent in 2012.

A slow recovery is expected in unemployment rate. Accordingly, the unemployment rate expected to be around 14.3 percent in 2010, is expected fall to the level of 13.3 percent in 2012.

1.3. Banking Sector in 2009

Banking sector recorded a good performance and contributed to financing of economic activities in 2009.

Global crisis also affected the financial sector substantially in Turkey. On the part of deposit banks, and development and investment banks, balance sheet risks increased rapidly, and external funding resources became tighter, and liquidity needs rose particularly in the last quarter of 2008 and in the first quarter of 2009. However, besides sound balance sheets, successful risk diversification and risk management by banks, due to the measures taken by the relevant authorities and the effective public supervision the banking sector in Turkey stayed safe and sound in 2009, without creating any burden on the public. The banking sector continued to support the financing of economic activities.

Many countries implemented full deposit guarantee and granted public resources to financial institutions in order to lessen the impacts of the global crisis, in contrast Turkey did not change the deposit guarantee limit and grant any public resources to the banks. On the other hand, due to the rapid narrowing in economic activities, decline in external demand and increase in unemployment, the loan risks increased and the loan demand was substantially tightened particularly in the first half of the year. However, the growing public sector borrowing requirement due to the budget deficit were financed by banks to a great extent.

The banking was “the best story” of Turkey in 2009.

The banking sector was “the best story of Turkey”, told repeatedly both domestically and abroad in 2009. As for the banks, the main causes underlying this achievement were sound and healthy balance sheet of the sector, and strong shareholders’ equity and high trust in TL. A great part of deposits in banks are deposits held and owned by residents in Turkey. TL deposits account for two-thirds of total deposits in banks.

The share of foreign loans in the balance sheet was around 9 percent. The shareholders’ equity continued to grow. Assets of banks showed a wide spectrum of distribution by products and customers. Loans and securities accounted for respectively 48 percent and 35 percent of total assets. Out of total loans, 67 percent was corporate loans and 33 percent was consumer loans. Banks' loans and securities portfolio included traditional banking products, and "toxic assets" almost did not exist. Almost all of the risks of banks were comprised of risks of Turkey. Growing shareholders' equities, healthy distribution of assets, high liquidity, lowering interest rate and more effective and efficient risk management affected the performance of the banks positively. Due to the longer maturity of assets than that of liabilities, the fall in interest rates positively affected the profit of banking sector as a whole in 2009. Increase in the profit volume in turn supported the growth in shareholders' equity and return on equity.

Total assets grew by 13 percent to TL 799 billion (USD 537 billion) in current prices. The ratio of total assets to gdp was around 84 percent. The share of the assets in foreign exchange in the total balance sheet declined by 4 percentage points to 27 percent, while that of the liabilities in foreign exchange fell down by 3 percentage points to 32 percent.

Due to the downsizing of economy, overall quality of loan stock declined, and non-performing loans increased. Provisions required to be set aside for non-performing loans limited the profitability. The share of non-performing loans in total loans rose to 5.4 percent, and specific provisions were set aside for 85 percent of them. The share of loans in total assets declined by 4 percentage points to 48 percent from its level as of the end of 2008. The share of consumer loans in total loans increased to 33 percent. The share of securities in total assets grew by 6 percentage points to 35 percent. The share of fixed assets in the total assets was about 3 percent.

Total deposits increased by 12 percent to TL 507 billion. The ratio of total deposits to total assets was 64 percent. The average maturity of TL deposits was 2.2 months, while that of foreign exchange deposits was 2.7 months. The funding resources supplied from foreign banks, realized as TL 70 billion (USD 53 billion), accounted for 9 percent of total assets. The major part of these resources were in foreign exchange.

Shareholders' equity and free shareholders' equity continued to increase. Shareholders' equity was TL 106 billion (USD 72 billion), and free shareholders' equity was TL 79 billion (USD 53 billion). The ratio of shareholders' equity to total assets was around 13 percent, while the capital adequacy standard ratio was around 20.9 percent. The return on equity rose by 2.8 percentage points to 18.3 percent.

Net profit of the period increased by 52 percent and reached TL 19.5 billion. Interest income and interest expenses declined by 1 percent and 22 percent, respectively.

The rate of increase in total off-balance sheet items was 28 percent.

One of the significant developments in the banking sector in 2009 was the change in sector shares of the bank groups according to capital ownership. The share of the state-owned banks in total loans, total deposits and total assets increased by 3 percentage points, 1 percentage point and 2 percentage points, respectively.

Market value of financial institutions rose by 113 percent to USD 96 billion as of December 2009 as compared to the end of 2008. Besides the strong financial structure and the increasing profitability of the banking sector, the upgraded credit rating of Turkey led to increase in the market value of financial institutions. As a result, total market value of financial institutions traded in Istanbul Stock Exchange accounted for 41 percent of total market value of all companies.

Market Value of Financial Institutions Trading in ISE (USD billion)

Credit cards transaction volume increased by 10 percent to TL 205 billion, while debit cards transaction volume increased by 21 percent to TL 188 billion as of the end of 2009 as compared to the end of the previous year.

The number of internet banking customers rose by 15 percent to 5.9 million in the same period.

In 2009, the number of banks operating in Turkey was 49; Of which 32 were deposit banks, and 13 development and investment banks and 4 participation banks. There were 17 deposit banks and 4 development and investment banks whose shares were owned by non resident investors at a rate of minimum 51 percent. The number of these banks rose to 25 with the addition of 4 banks having strategic partnership with the non-resident financial institutions. Out of 25 banks, 14 banks were European, 5 were Middle-Eastern, 4 were USA, and 1 was Asian, and 1 was African-origin.

The upward trend in the number of branches and the employment which started in 2003 also continued in 2009 despite the global crisis.

Compared to EU member states, according to 2008 data, the Turkish banking system was at the fifteenth rank among EU27 in terms of size of assets. The average assets per capita in EU was 16 times greater than the assets per capita in Turkey.

In spite of the steady growth and the increase in loan supply during 2002-2008 period, the banking system in Turkey is still relatively small compared with the EU member states on average.

The growth rate of the Turkish economy started to lose acceleration after 2004, but nevertheless grew above 4 percent, its long-term average, until 2008. The deceleration in the growth rate became more evident after the first quarter of 2008, and the growth rate declined in the last quarter. Thus, uninterrupted growth period of 27 quarters that started in the third quarter of 2002 ceased at the end of the third quarter of 2008. Thereafter, after continuing to slowdown for the initial three quarters of 2009, the economic activity grew again in the last quarter of 2009 following a slowdown lasting for four quarters. The basic reasons underlying this slowdown in economy in 2009 were rapid deceleration in capital inflow, contraction in domestic and foreign demand, and particularly, decrease in private sector capital investments.

Gross Domestic Product (percentage change in constant prices)

Considering sectors, the industries and services sectors contracted, while the agriculture sector grew in real terms. Accordingly, agriculture sector grew by 3.3 percent, while there was a slowdown in industry and services sectors, by 7.2 percent and 4.9 percent, in constant prices, respectively. The share of the agriculture sector in gdp rose by 1 percentage point to 8 percent, while the share of the industries sector decreased by 1 percentage point to 19 percent, and the share of the services sector remained the same at 73 percent, in current prices.

The manufacturing industry which was the most important sub-sector of industry sector contracted by 7.2 percent. In the energy sector, manufacturing industry fell down by 3.5 percent. In the manufacturing industry, the average rate of capacity utilization increased by 5 percentage points to 69.7 percent as of December 2009 compared with the previous year. The public sector consumption expenditures and investment expenditures had shares of 15 percent and 4 percent, respectively. The share of the public sector consumption expenditures increased substantially as compared to the end of 2008, while that of investment expenditures declined. The shares of both stock variations and net foreign trade were negative.

2.2. Employment and Wages

Although the number of unemployed people rose to a limited extent, the actual rate of unemployment declined due to the increases in employment and labor force.

According to the data of Turkstat (Turkish Statistical Institute), total labor supply was 24.8 million, and total employment was only 21.5 million as of December 2009. Total number of workforce increased by 868 thousand persons as compared to the same period of the last year. Besides this increase, the upward trend in the participation to workforce led to a rise of 1,013 thousand persons in the work force. However, in the same period, total employment increased by only 985 thousand persons. Hence, the number of unemployed people increased by approximately 29 thousand persons to 3.4 million compared with the previous year.

According to the estimations of the State Planning Organization, the minimum wage and the real labor cost of public workers and civil servants increased in 2009.

2.3. Inflation

Due to the negative effects of global developments on the economic activities, rapid decline in domestic and foreign demand and rapid fall in energy and commodity prices in the international markets, the inflation rate actually remained below the targeted level in 2009. The year-end inflation target was determined as 7.5 percent in consumer prices for 2009, but the year-end inflation realized as 6.5 percent.

Inflation (12-month, percentage change)

* Values until 2004 belong to previously calculated wholesale price index.

Annual rate of increase in the consumer prices index (CPI) declined during the initial 10 months of 2009 down to 5.1 percent, but increased to 6.5 percent in the last two months of the year. The inflation rate was 5.9 percent according to the Producer Prices Index (PPI). Annual average increase rates were 6.3 percent and 1.2 percent for CPI and PPI, respectively.

* Values until 2004 belong to previously calculated wholesale price index.

The inflation reduced during the first two quarters of the year, and generally remained low during the second half of the year on annual basis. Since the economy was not exposed to a substantial inflationist pressure, the Central Bank basically adopted a policy taking the economic growth in consideration as well, and therefore gradually decreased the overnight interest rates.

2.4. Public Sector Balance

The public sector deficit expanded substantially in 2009. The ratio of public sector deficit to gdp increased from 1.6 percent to 5.3 percent. Due to the downsizing in the economy in general, tax revenues decreased, but on the other hand, the measures adopted to limit the negative effects of global developments caused an increase in public expenditures. This led to an expansion in the public sector deficit, and rise in the ratio of public sector deficit to gdp. According to estimations of the State Planning Organization, total public revenues increased by only 1 percent, while total public expenditures increased by 15 percent in 2009. As a result, the ratio of total public revenues to gdp increased by approximately 0.4 percentage points to 33.5 percent, while that of total public expenditures rose by 5.4 percentage points to 40.1 percent.

It is estimated that the ratio of public sector primary balance to gdp, which was 4.1 percent in 2008 decreased to 0.1 percent in 2009. The ratio of public sector primary balance to gdp has been falling since 2006. This stemmed mainly from the deterioration in the central government budget.

The share of tax revenues in the public revenues was around 55 percent, and indirect taxes accounted for 65 percent of tax revenues. On the other hand, non-interest expenditures accounted for 84 percent of total expenditures. The share of interest expenditures in total expenditures decreased by 16 percentage points compared with 2004, and by 1 percentage point compared with 2008.

Public Sector Borrowing Requirement / Gdp and Inflation (percentage)

The basic factors underlying the negative developments in the public sector balance in 2009 were the recession in economic activities due to the global crisis, and the fall in tax revenues in real terms due to tax reductions made to support the domestic demand, and the substantial increase in public expenditures. The increase in public expenditures was also affected by the current transfers expanded again for the purpose of limiting the negative effects of the global crisis.

The ratio of outstanding domestic debt to gdp increased by 6 percentage points to 35 percent. Total outstanding debt increased by 16 percent to TL 442 billion (USD 293 billion). The ratio of total outstanding debt to gdp rose from 38 percent to 47 percent. In addition to the rise in the ratio of outstanding domestic debt to gdp, the pressure of public sector on the financial resources also increased. The ratio of the outstanding domestic debt to financial instruments (comprised of TL deposits, foreign exchange deposits, repos, investment funds, and government domestic debt securities in the portfolio of non-bank segments) rose from 55 percent to 57 percent.

As of December 2009, 63 percent of the government domestic debt securities was held by banks. Total amount of the government domestic debt securities held by non-bank segments was TL 122 billion. Of which TL 10.6 billion (9 percent) were owned by real persons. Government domestic debt securities held by non-bank sectors constituted 37 percent of the outstanding domestic debt. Demand of non-bank sectors for government domestic debt securities increased in the first half of 2009, but declined in the second half due to the fall in the demand of real persons, while the demand of other segments did not show any significant change. It is observed that the demand of legal entities for government domestic debt securities increases during recessions in economic activities. On the other hand, the demand of banks for government domestic debt securities increased considerably due to the rise in the public sector borrowing requirement.

The annual compound interest rate of government domestic debt securities continued to fall throughout the year due to the reduction of policy interest rates by the Central Bank and the increase in overall demand for government bonds which were considered as a safe investment vehicle because of fluctuations in the international markets. Thus, the interest rate of government securities decreased by approximately 10 percentage points to 9 percent on annual basis in 2009 compared with 2008.

2.5. Monetary Aggregates

2.5.1. Monetary Policy

The negative impacts of the global economic developments on domestic and foreign demand all over the world, the rapid downward trend in economic activities, the overall risk perception in financial system, the tightening of loan standards, the deceleration in capital inflow, the decreasing commodity prices, the fall in inflationist pressure, the increase in the public sector borrowing requirement and the rise in unemployment rate were the basic factors determining the monetary policy applied in 2009.

The Central Bank preferred a policy of closing the liquidity deficit, reducing the interest rates and operating the loan mechanisms. Liquidity opportunities were improved and cost was reduced. Foreign exchange buying and selling auctions were held, and the liquidity requirement ratios were reduced.

The Central Bank reduced the policy interest rates by 8.5 percentage points from 15 percent (annual compound interest rate: 16.2 percent) to 6.5 percent during 2009 (annual compound interest rate: 6.7 percent). In February, the maturity of foreign exchange reserves that may be purchased by banks from the Central Bank was risen from 1 month to 3 months, and the Central Bank's lending interest rate was reduced from 7 percent to 5.5 percent for USD and from 9 percent to 6.5 percent for euro. The foreign exchange selling auctions were initiated due to the rapid upward trend in foreign exchange demand, and USD 900 million was sold through 18 auctions as of March 2009. Then, due to the upward trend in foreign exchange supply in the economy since August, the Central Bank restarted foreign exchange buying auctions and purchased a total of USD 4.2 billion in 2009. Hence, net foreign exchange purchase of the Central Bank in 2009 was USD 3.3 billion. In March and April, new legislative arrangements enabling more firms to raise export rediscount loan facilities were enacted, and loan limits were also increased. After June, repo auctions with 3-month maturity also became one of the funding opportunities. Then, the rate of TL required reserves was reduced from 6 percent to 5 percent as of October 2009.

In spite of such expansive practices in the monetary policy, the Central Bank's budget reduced by 4 percent in 2009 due to low loan demand, increasing loan risk, continuing precautionary approaches of banks, and deceleration in capital inflow. The ratio of its balance sheet size to gdp was around 11.5 percent. Foreign assets was 104 percent of the balance sheet size, while domestic assets showed a negative balance. The ratio of domestic liabilities to the balance sheet was 34 percent, while that of foreign exchange liabilities to the balance sheet was 21 percent.

Net domestic assets increased by TL 7 billion and reached to TL -8 billion. This increase in net domestic assets was a result of (net) increase in open market operations. However, the reduction in cash loans extended to the public sector limited the increase in net domestic assets. Due to these developments, monetary base rose by 16 percent to TL 65 billion.

Central Bank Balance Sheet and Deflator (annual percentage change)

The open market operations which gave a surplus of TL 2.8 billion as of December 2008 increased to a surplus of TL 18.9 billion as of December 2009. Thus, the Central Bank supplied an additional liquidity of TL 16 billion to the market in 2009. The Central Bank's balance of receivables from the open market operations exceeded TL 23 billion as of the beginning of December 2009.

2.5.2. Financial Assets and Money Demand

Despite the uncertainties in the international markets and the limitations faced in financing the balance of payments, particularly the demand for TL denominated financial assets and instruments maintained its strong position and level, and the ratio of financial assets to gdp rose significantly. The ratio of financial assets comprised of cash, deposits and capital market instruments to gdp increased by 30 percentage points to 125 percent in 2009, by exceeding its pre-global crisis levels.

The increase in demand for financial assets resulted from the increase in stock prices. The share of bonds and bills entirely comprised of securities issued by the public sector also increased by 6 percentage points. On the other hand, the share of money and quasi-money assets also rose by 6 percentage points due the demand for TL deposits.

Money demand (M2RF), consisting of TL deposits, repos and short-term investment funds, rose by 15 percent. Growth in the demand for TL demand deposits by 47 percent contributed significantly to this end. In 2009, value of TL against dollar and euro did not show any important change. Currency substitution reduced due to decreasing use of external resources, increasing interest of investors towards short-term TL instruments such as repo, and stability in the value of TL.

The ratio of TL deposits to gdp increased by 5 percentage points to 33 percent at the end of 2008, and that of total deposits, including foreign exchange deposits, increased by 6 percentage points to 48 percent. Despite the fall in interest rates, the strengthening demand for TL deposits, and the slowdown in growth of gdp led to a rapid increase in the ratio of deposit to gdp.

Due to the legislation changes enabling the banks resident in Turkey to supply foreign exchange loans also to sectors which do not have foreign exchange revenues, and as a result of limitation of the external borrowing opportunities under the effects of the global crisis, the borrowing foreign exchange loan of non-financial sectors from abroad showed a downward trend.

In foreign trade volume, Germany rose to the first position among foreign trade partners of Turkey with a share of 9.8 percent. Trade deficit with the group of other Asian countries was mainly produced by the trade with China and South Korea.

Capital inflows remained below the current account deficit as in 2008. Capital inflows decreased from USD 34 billion at the end of 2008 to USD 6 billion at the end of 2009. This evident slowdown in capital inflows was particularly a result of fall in net direct investments and net other investments. But, contrary to the last year, an upward trend was not recorded in net portfolio investments. The fall in net other investments was caused by the fall in borrowing external debt of the real sector.

Capital Flows (USD billion)

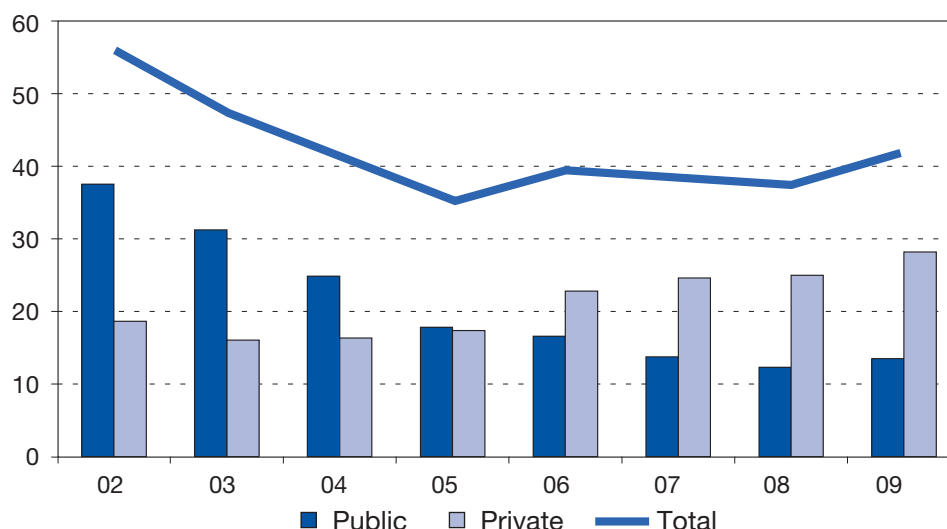

On the other hand, net errors and omissions account gave a surplus of USD 8.4 billion, and accordingly, reserves increased. Reserve assets gave a surplus of USD 0.8 billion. A sum of USD 0.7 billion was paid to the International Monetary Fund, and official reserves increased by USD 0.1 billion.

Annual growth rate of total assets in TL terms slowed down during the entire year; declined from 26 percent to 13 percent. The main factors underlying this decline were the narrowing demand for loans for working capital and investments due to slowdown in economic activities, and the increasing public sector borrowing requirement, and the banks attitudes to act more prudently towards rising loan risks, and the decrease in borrowing from resources from abroad. On the other hand, due to measures taken by the BRSA and the Central Bank, the liquidity concerns of banks reduced, and banks entered into a serious competition for increasing the supply of long-term loans and offering single-digit interest rates to customers in the high loan quality category.

Deposits remained as the most important resource of funds. As the foreign borrowing resources became more limited, the cost of which was relatively higher, banks reduced their foreign funding operations.

3.7. Structure of Assets

There were significant changes in the structure of assets especially in the first three quarters of 2009. Securities portfolio grew due to the increase in the public sector borrowing requirement. At the same time, the rate of increase in loans slowed down depending on decline in loan demand due to downsizing in economic activities and the tightening of lending standards of banks in parallel with increasing loan risk. The liquid assets were tried to be kept at a high level because of the risk perception increasing in the first half of the year, but started to fall in the second quarter of the year.

Because of the maturity mismatch between assets and liabilities items, decline in the total interest income was limited by 1 percent, while total interest expenses fell by 22 percent.
